

TRAINING

Beginning in 2016, we switched our focus from training scholarships to meaningful career paths. We understand that what everyone wants eventually is a great job with potential for the future. With the economy here in Northeast Florida heating up, most people can find their next great job with the skills and experience they already have.

In some cases, they may need help understanding the market or connecting with employers.

- If you've been looking for work for a while without any serious leads, you may need to change course. If what you've always done doesn't work anymore, what do you do?
- If you're not sure, there's some good news: You don't have to deal with it alone. CareerSource Northeast Florida has been connecting jobseekers with employment since 1997. Every year, we help tens of thousands of people get advice, assistance, and job leads.
- CareerSource Northeast Florida is a part of the statewide CareerSource Florida system.

Organizations like ours all across the state connect you with employment through our career centers and our online database of candidates and job postings.

We invite you to visit the CareerSource Northeast Florida career center that is most convenient to you. You can find a list of our locations on our website at careersourcenefl.com.

Ask to speak to a career coach who can help you understand what career path might be the best route to your success. Training may be a part of your plan; as we work together, we can figure that out.

If you qualify for training, our workforce training program connects you to industry-recognized certifications, which lead to employment in high-demand occupations and industries.

You may qualify for training if:

- You have been laid off from your job or have received notice that your job will be eliminated.
- You might qualify based on income (including if you have been laid off and have taken a short-term or part-time job.)
- You commit to a structured plan for career transition, working with one of our career coaches to decide whether training is the right step for you.

Your training plan may include classroom experiences, but it may also take the form of work experience, where you learn by doing on the job, or apprenticeships, where you combine classroom work and on the job learning. Usually, you earn a training wage while you're learning, and get pay increases when you complete specific learning milestones.

If you're receiving training assistance, you'll be required to maintain a certain grade point in class and meet other requirements related to your work experience. You'll be checking in with us on a regular basis and reporting to us when you get a job after your training is complete.
